MEET GREG GO GETTER

Greg is a super prepared student who always tries to stay ahead of the game. He likes to be prepared, review, and hopes that these skills will pay off in the long run.

Greg needs reassurance that he's "got this" and also some time management tools to manage everything he has put on his plate.

When you visit Greg's class or see him stressing, encourage him to try the drop-off Essay review for English Class. As always, make sure Greg knows our tutors are encouraging and educational.

MEET RENA RIGOR

Rena wants to fill her high school transcripts with rigor courses to help push her to the top of the college admissions' offices selection list. She'll fill her schedule with advanced and maybe AP courses, for some of which she might not have had the best preparation.

AP and other rigor courses look appealing because they can result in college credit, higher GPA due to weighting and scholarships. For many students, though, they are an eye opener.

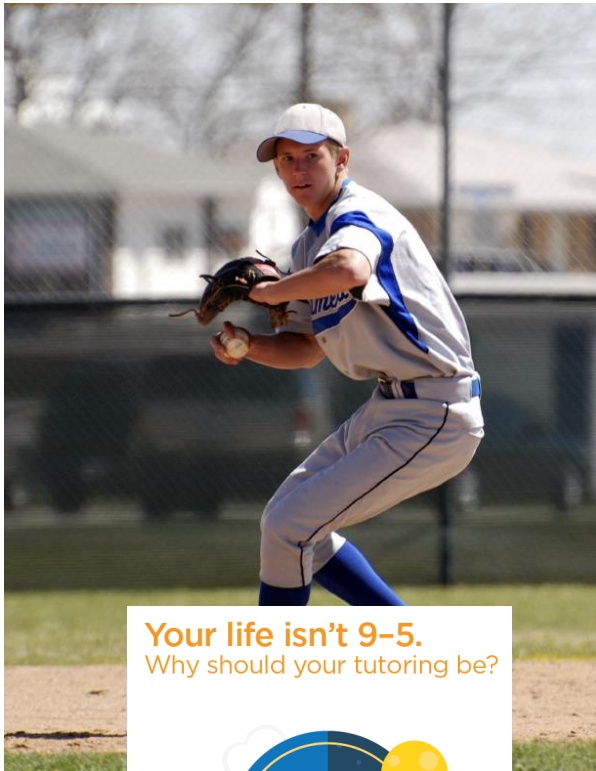

Point her to the new Get a Five Videos and encourage her our tutors can help from her easier subjects to the APs.

MEET AL ATHLETE

Your life isn't 9-5.
Why should your tutoring be?

Students have 24/7 access to free online tutoring, so you can study on a schedule that works for you.

Connect with a tutor today:
www.tutor.com/GearUpGA
Use your GEAR UP GA Email to log in today!

Up by 6:00 a.m. School from 7:30 – 2:30.
Straight to practice by 2:45 and not home until 6:00 p.m. Brother-babysitting duty until 8:00. Algebra worksheet, English essay, biology lab report, Spanish test and history chapter drag on until 11:00 p.m.

Al does it all, but just as he needs coaching on the field, he also needs support in his studies and a little help managing his time.

Drop-off reviews and late night tutoring availability can help Al make his study time more efficient AND effective. Be sure to let coaches and other support staff at the school know about [Tutor.com/Homework Help](http://Tutor.com/Homework Help).

MEET MARIA MATEMATICAS

Maria is a student whose primary language is Spanish. She speaks decent English and has to complete her homework in English. However, her parents only speak Spanish.

She is a little behind in math because her school is ahead of what she's learned. Math frustrates her the most!

Maria can connect with our bilingual Spanish-speaking tutors for math support from 2pm-2am ET everyday and also with our ESL tutors to improve her English and keep her vocabulary up.

Make sure her parents also get informative materials in Español so she can always be reminded at home too!

Meet Anna, a high school sophomore with dreams. She's a self-proclaimed "geek" – an artist that loves role-playing games, political debates and weirdly enough, chemistry. Yet, she is thinking of majoring in business. With so many interests, it's no wonder her mailbox is overstuffed with postcards, brochures and books from colleges trying to get her attention. How does she navigate this path to college? What test should she take? Will her score be high enough? How to pay for it all?

Homework Help and ACT/SAT Test Prep can give Anna the support she needs to achieve her dreams. Tutoring will keep her grades up while Test Prep for one or both Tests will allow her to get the score she wants to go to her dream school.

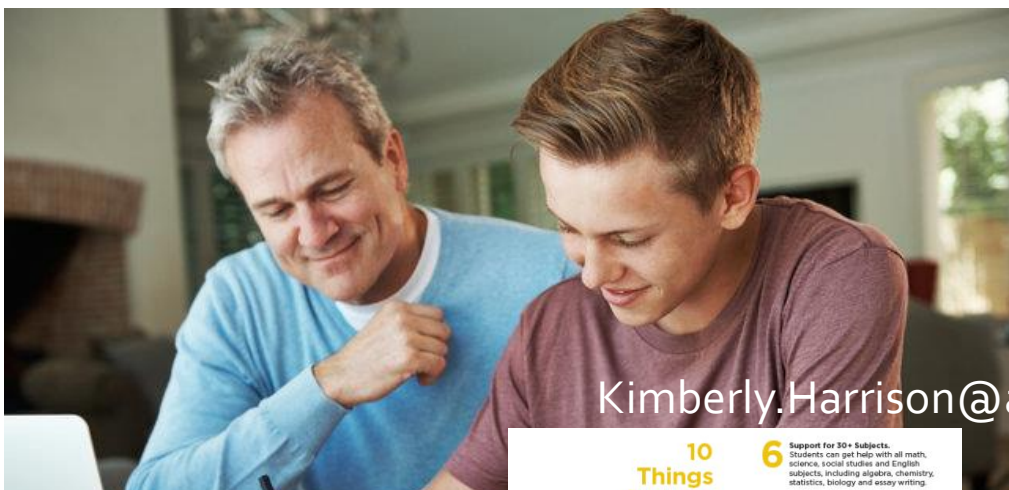

Make sure you give her How To Access handout on Test Prep so she can log in and get working on acing the test ASAP!

MEET BILL FATHERINGTON

Kimberly.Harrison@a

Bill is a concerned dad who juggles work and home life. He only has so much time but does what he can to help his son.

Thankfully whenever Bill can't help his son, he's got Homework Help to back him up for his son.

Whether it's a subject he can't recall or while he's off to bed, his son can always access the service. To make sure Bill knows that, make sure at parent teacher nights or at Back to School events that he gets a Flyer to hang on his fridge and a copy of "10 things for parents".
